

BELMAR POLICE COMMUNITY POLICING

The Borough of Belmar Police Department Community Policing Program currently has one police officer assigned to a street or streets to provide communication between the department and citizens in problem solving and will ensure that matters are addressed in an efficient manner. The officer and citizens will work together to address the quality of life issues and order maintenance in their neighborhood. The community policing officer assigned to your street acts as the Police Department's community outreach specialist.

Listed below are the street assignments of the officers along with their contact information if you need to reach your community policing officer about any issues or problems in your neighborhood. If you have a problem reaching an officer or have any questions about the Belmar Police Department Community Policing Program you can contact Det. Capt. Thomas Cox at tcx@belmarpd.com or 732-681-3715.
